3 Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, in the Second Circuit.

THE GEORGIA INFIRMARY FOR THE RELIEF AND PROTECTION of Aged and Afflicted Negroes, Complainant,
against
GAZAWAY DE ROSSET LAMAR, as Executor of the Will of Gazaway B. Lamar, Deceased, Defendant. } Complaint.

To the judges of the circuit court of the United States for the southern district of New York, in the second circuit:

The Georgia Infirmary for the Relief and Protection of Aged and Afflicted Negroes, of the city of Savannah, in the State of Georgia, and a citizen of the State of Georgia, brings this its bill against Gazaway De Rosset Lamar, as executor of the will of Gazaway B. Lamar, deceased, of the city of New York, in the State of New York, and a citizen of the State of New York, and therefore your orator complains and says:

I. On information and belief that, at the times hereafter mentioned, your orator was a charitable corporation, incorporated under the laws of the State of Georgia, with the name or title
4 above mentioned, to relieve aged and afflicted negroes, and was authorized to receive, sue for, and hold all donations of real or personal property which might be given, granted, or demised to it, and on or about the 28th day of September, 1872, the place where its business was solely carried on was the city of Savannah, in said State of Georgia, and on said date its president was Mr. John Stoddard and its secretary Dr. William Duncan, and said persons were at said time president and secretary respectively of no other like or similar corporation, association, or society.

II. On information and belief that on or about the 28th day of September, 1872, Gazaway B. Lamar, now deceased, then and up to the time of his death a resident of the city and State of New York, made and executed his last will and testament, a copy whereof is hereunto annexed, whereby he gave to your orator fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), and, in the contingency therein mentioned, one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), to be paid out of a portion of his estate at the time of the making of said will in action, to wit, out of certain cotton claims held and owned by him against the Government of the United States, as will more fully appear by said will and the 11th item thereof, which is as follows: "Item 11. I give and bequeath next out of the residue of my cotton claims, when collected, one hundred thousand dollars, if so much remain, and if not, then whatever balance may remain, to be divided equally between the mayor and aldermen of the city of Augusta and the Oglethorpe association or infirmary, at Savannah, of which Mr. John Stoddard is now president and Dr. William Duncan is secretary, to be devoted to establishing and sustaining one or more hospitals for colored persons in each of said cities who have been slaves, and their descendants, giving preference to those which once belonged to or was hired by me, more especially to provide for 5 the old, the decrepit, the blind, the deaf and dumb, the insane, and for care of the lying in of females for a period not exceeding six weeks on each occasion.

But if the city of Augusta do not establish at least one hospital within two years after this bequest is due and payable, then and in that event the whole sum shall be for the benefit of the institution already referred to in the city of Savannah."

III. On information and belief that a few months prior to the death of said Gazaway B. Lamar, deceased, he collected and received from the said United States the amount, or the larger part of the amount, of said cotton claims on account of the same, to wit, a sum not less than four hundred and eighty thousand dollars ($480,000), which was more than sufficient to pay all the legacies which were entitled by said will to a priority of payment over those given by said 11th item and to pay in full the legacies given by said item.

IV. On information and belief that upon the collection of said cotton claims the said Gazaway B. Lamar invested the equivalent of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in the bonds of the city of Savannah and paid over to your orator the income therefrom up to the time of his death and stated, after the collection of said claims, that he had by his will given to your orator fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), to be payable out of said collections then already made.

V. On information and belief that on or about the 4th day of October, 1874, the said Gazaway B. Lamar, deceased, died at the city of New York, in the State of New York, leaving a large estate, amounting, exclusive of the collections made by him on account of his cotton claims, to one million dollars and upwards, with the amounts collected on said claims, amounting to one million and five hundred thousand dollars and upwards.

6 VI. On information and belief that on or about the 10th day of November, 1874, the said will of said deceased was duly proved and admitted to probate before the surrogate of the county of New York, who had jurisdiction thereof, as the last will and testament of the deceased, and thereupon on said date letters testamentary to administer the estate of said deceased pursuant to said will were duly issued to Gazaway De Rosset Lamar, the defendant above named.

VII. On information and belief that by the statutes of the State of New York for such case made and provided pecuniary legacies are payable one year from the date of issuing of letters testamentary.

VIII. On information and belief that more than two years have elapsed since the said legacy given by the said 11th item of said will to your orator and to the city of Augusta or to the mayor and aldermen thereof was due and payable, and neither the city of Augusta nor the mayor and aldermen thereof have established one hospital for colored persons.

IX. On information and belief that all the debts of the deceased and all the legatees entitled to legacies and to a priority of payment over your orator by said will have been paid and the defendant has in hand and applicable to the payment of the legacy given by said will to your orator money sufficient to pay the same in full; but, although demand therefor has frequently been made, the defendant refuses to pay to your orator the legacy given to it by said will or any part thereof.

X. That the matter in dispute in this suit, exclusive of costs, exceeds five thousand dollars ($5,000).

Wherefore your orator prays that your honors may decree
7 that the defendant above named account as executor of the estate of Gazaway B. Lamar, deceased, and out of such assets of said estate as shall appear upon said accounting to be applicable thereto to pay to your orator the said legacy of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), with interest from the 10th day of November, 1875, and that your orator may have such further or other relief in the premises as the nature of the circumstances of this case may require and to this honorable court shall seem meet.

And may it please your honors to grant unto your orator a writ of subpœna of the United States of America, issuing out of and under the seal of this honorable court, directed to the said defendant, Gazaway De Rosset Lamar, and under a certain penalty to be and appear in this honorable court, and then and there to answer all and singular the premises and to stand and perform such further direction and decree as may be made against him.

And your orator, as in duty bound, will ever pray, &c.

9 Will of Gazaway B. Lamar.

In the name of God, amen!

I, Gazaway B. Lamar, Senior, of the county and State of New York, being of sound, disposing mind, memory and discretion, do make, publish and declare this my last will and testament, hereby revoking all other wills, testaments and codicils by me at any previous time made.

Item 1. I direct that all my just debts shall be immediately paid by my executors herein named.

Item 2. I hereby direct that all the rest of my property of which I may die seized or possessed (or which I may hereafter acquire), excepting only my cotton claims upon the Government of the United States, shall be as soon as practicable divided into four equal parts.

Item 3. That one of said equal parts be then conveyed to my son G. De Rosset Lamar, in fee simple, or to such person or persons as he shall or may select by notice to my executors in writing at the time as trustees to hold said part or any portion of the same, in trust for him and his children, on such terms and conditions as he may prescribe.

Item 4. That another of said equal parts be conveyed to Timothy G. Porter, of New York, in trust for the separate use of my daughter Charlotte A. Soutter, wife of Robert Soutter, and of her children, now in life or born hereafter, share and share alike, as tenants in common and not as joint tenants, the child of any deceased child to represent and stand in the place of his or her or their deceased parent, and to take in all cases per stirpes and not per capita, and the shares of my said daughter Charlotte and of her female child or children, to be free from the debts, contracts, obligations and control of any present or future husband. It is my further will that said trustee shall pay the income of such equal parts and share of my estate to my said daughter Charlotte during the minority of her said children, quarterly and upon her own receipt, and that as soon as any child shall attain the age of twenty-one years, or shall marry, the portion of such child shall be set apart and conveyed to his or her trustee or trustees to be selected by my said daughter Charlotte, to be held in trust on such terms and conditions as she may prescribe for the benefit of such child.

Item 5. That another of said equal parts be conveyed to Henry F. Durand, Esq., of Boston, in Massachusetts, in trust for the children of my late daughter Anne C. Minor, named Hattie C. Minor, and Benjamin Lamar Minor, for their separate use, free from the control of all other persons, and should either of them die childless the share or portion of such child shall go at once and rest in the survivor. And if both should die childless, or die leaving no child, or the representative of any child, living at the time of his or her death, the shares and proportion of such children, or the survivor of them, shall be divided equally amongst my other children herein named, who may be living at the time, and the children of any of them that may be deceased, to take per stirpes and not per capita and upon the uses, trusts and limitations set forth in this my will.

Item 6. That another equal portion be conveyed to Henry F. Durant, Esq., in trust for the separate use of my daughter Harriet Cazenove Lamar, at present a minor, the net income and proceeds thereof to be paid to her quarterly, or be invested in whole or in part, at her option, for her benefit, and that my said daughter shall have full power and authority to bequeath and dispose of said part by her will and testament in writing, either before or after cove-ture, and should she fail to do so and depart this life childless, then that part or portion shall be equally divided amongst all my children herein named who may be living at the time, share and share alike, to take per stirpes and not per cap-ta, and upon the trusts and limitations set forth in this my will.

Item 7. It is my further will and desire, and I hereby direct my executors to press my claims upon the Government of the United States for payment of the following cotton, which are now before the Court of Claims, and also before the Committee on Claims, of the Congress of the United States.

E. T. A. & E. T. V. 67 / X. Y. Z. 69 } 136 bales cotton belonging to a gentleman in Richmond, Virginia, on which C. A. L. Lamar made advances.

And also for 1018 bales cotton belonging to the importing and exporting company, of which I am president, which were taken by A. G. Brown, Jr., Treasury agent, from Thomasville in November, 1865, by his receipt in the Treasury Department, and for about 400 bales taken from Macon in November, 1865, by Treasury agents named Dillon and Alexander, of which L. N. Whittle, Esq., of Macon can procure testimony. And also for 688 bales upland cotton belonging to the same company, which were taken from Savannah by Colonel Ranson on which Henry Lafone, Esq., of Liverpool, has a lien for about thirty thousand pounds sterling which he is pressing for payment under the treaty of Washington, which when paid ought ought to leave a large balance for the company.

And when all are collected the amount is to be divided to the stockholders of said company on their several certificates, about 1,860 in number.

When all the collections for this private cotton are made and the amounts placed to the credit of the several accounts, and interest charged to such account for my advances, then a division must be made of the net balance to the private accounts of each.

And the accounts of C. A. L. Lamar and W. W. Cheever be respectively charged with each one-third of the losses on the guano account with interest thereon. And if any balance be due 13 by W. W. Cheever's account, the account of C. A. L. Lamar must be charged with one-half of that amount as a partner in that business.

And if there be any balance due on W. W. Cheever's account after charging him with 91 bales cotton stolen by his executor, Geo. H. Cheever, from Mr. Grover's warehouse (unless the same be collected from the United States as cotton taken by S. G. Cahill), the same to be paid to P. M. Nightingale, Esq., for W. W. Cheever's indebtedness to him to the extent of the same if it may be legally done.

Item 8. And to settle all accounts with C. A. L. Lamar's estate, including the loss on the joint guano account and to pay or to receive the balance.

Item 9. That inasmuch as my nephew, G. B. Lamar, Jr., was persecuted and imprisoned by the United States Treasury agents whilst they were stealing the cotton of the importing and exporting company at Thomasville in November, 1865, my executors be directed to pay him for the same and his services rendered then and since five per cent. of whatever may be collected from the Government on that account if he be living, and if not, to his widow, and if she be departed, then to his next of kin, and that he be discharged and exonerated from any debt he may owe me to the extent of five thousand dollars, or if he owe me nothing or less than that amount, that he shall be paid enough, with whatever amount he may owe me to make that amount, and that the same shall be settled upon his wife by trustees chosen by her with reversion to him if she die childless.

Item 10. That the amount collected on my account from said cotton claims shall be divided into four equal parts if it be less than two hundred thousand dollars, and be distributed to my four children, as per items three, four, five and six of this my will, and upon the uses, trusts and limitations specified in the same. And it is my will and desire that the trustee or trustees of my said daughters 14 and their legal successors in said trusts shall cause the portions coming to any and all grand-aughters of mine under the provisions of this will before or hereafter expressed to be secured to the sole and separate use, benefit and behoof of each of said granddaughters upon the marriage of them severally, so that such portion shall not be or become in any manner subject to the debts, contracts, obligations or control of any husband.

Item 11. I give and bequeath next out of the residue of my cotton claims when collected, one hundred thousand dollars, if so much remain, and if not, then whatever balance may remain, to be divided equally between the mayor and aldermen of the city of Augusta and the Oglethorpe association or infirmary at Savannah, of which Mr. John Stoddard is now president, and Dr. William Duncan is secretary, to be devoted to establishing and sustaining one or more hospitals for colored persons in each of said cities who have been slaves, and their descendants, giving preference to those which once belonged to or was hired by me, more especially to provide for the old, the decrepid, the blind, the deaf and dumb, the insane, and for care of the lying-in of females for a period not exceeding six weeks on each occasion.

But if the city of Augusta do not establish at least one hospital within two years after this bequest is due and payable, then and in that event the whole sum shall be for the benefit of the institution already referred to in the city of Savannah.

Item 12. I give and bequeath to my sister Sarah Rees' daughters Micon and Lamartine, three thousand dollars each, to be paid next out of my cotton claims.

Item 13. I give and bequeath to Belle Lamar, daughter of my brother Basil Lamar, deceased, three thousand dollars, to be paid next out of my cotton claims.

Item 14. I give and bequeath to my sister Rebecca McLeod five thousand dollars, to be paid next out of my cotton claims.

15 Item 15. All the balance of my cotton claims, and all the residue of my property, real, personal or mixed, I desire and bequeath to my four children herein named, subject to the trusts and limitations set forth in items three, four, five and six of this my will.

Item 16. I nominate, constitute and appoint my son G. De Rosset Lamar, my son-in-law Robert Soutter, and my friend Timothy G. Porter, my executors to execute the duties herein required and devolved upon them.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 28th day of September, 1872, in the city of New York.

THE GEORGIA INFIRMARY FOR THE RELIEF AND PROTECTION OF AGED AND AFFLICTED NEGROES, Complainant,
against
GAZAWAY DE ROSSET LAMAR, as Executor of the Will of Gazaway B. Lamar, Deceased, Defendant.
} Answer.

The answer of the above-named defendant, G. De Rosset Lamar, as executor of the will of Gazaway B. Lamar, deceased, to the bill of complaint of the above-named complainant.

This defendant, saving and reserving to himself all and all manner of advantage that may be taken by exception or otherwise to the many errors, imperfections, and insufficiencies of the complainant's bill, for answer to so much thereof as he is advised is material or necessary for him to make answer thereto, answering, says:

This defendant denies that the will of the said Gazaway B. Lamar took effect at the time of the making of said will, as is alleged in the second paragraph of the complaint, but avers that the said will, like all other wills, took effect at the time of the decease of the testator, and he denies that the testator conveyed any property to the complainant on the 28th day of September, 1872.

And this defendant, in further answering, says that the eleventh clause of the said will, set out in the second paragraph of the complaint, is subject to the various limitations and restrictions
17 contained in the said will, contemplating various contingencies, some of which have not happened, and until the happening of which the bequest in the eleventh clause of the said will is inoperative.

And this defendant, further answering in regard to the allegation contained in the third paragraph of the bill of complaint, admits that Gazaway B. Lamar, the testator, did collect large sums of money from the Government of the United States, being a part of the amounts due him, as he believed and stated in his said will, but he did not collect other large parts of such amounts, and this defendant, in pursuance of the instructions of the will, is now engaged in suits for the purpose of collecting those other large sums, out of which the legacy to the complainant will be payable, if, upon the settlement of the conditions of the will, there should appear to be a balance sufficient for that purpose; and this defendant further says that, in respect to the amounts collected by the testator as set out in the said third paragraph, suits for very large amounts thereof and equal to about $400,000.00 are now pending against this defendant as executor, &c.—that is to say, a suit by George H. Cheever, as administrator, &c., of William W. Cheever, deceased, against Gazaway De Rosset Lamar, as executor, &c., of Gazaway B. Lamar, deceased, in the supreme court of the State of New York, and a suit by Charles J. McCoy against G. De Rosset Lamar, as executor, &c., pending in this honorable court—and that if the claims made by the complainants in those suits should be adjudged to be valid they would absorb the greater part of the moneys collected by the testator, Gazaway B. Lamar, and there would be none to pay the legacy to this complainant, even if it were true, as assumed in the bill of complaint, that it was entitled to be paid out of any monies which came into hands of the testator during his lifetime and which were not the subject of his will at the time of his death.

18 And this defendant, further answering in regard to the allegation contained in the fourth paragraph of the bill of complaint, denies that the said Gazaway B. Lamar in his lifetime invested the equivalent of $50,000 in the bonds of the city of Savannah for the benefit of complainant, and leaves the complainant to make such proof thereof as they may be advised on that subject, but if the said Gazaway B. Lamar in his lifetime did invest the equivalent of said $50,000 for the benefit of the complainant he did not bequeath the bonds that were thus purchased by him to the complainant, and this defendant denies that the complainant has any right to an account in respect to them.

And this defendant, further answering in respect to the allegation contained in the fifth paragraph of the bill of complaint, admits that the said Gazaway B. Lamar died on or about the 5th day of October, 1874, at the city of New York, but he denies that the estate left by the said Gazaway B. Lamar amounted to a million dollars independent of the cotton claims, or to a million and a half of dollars including said cotton claims.

And this defendant, in answer to the allegations contained in the ninth paragraph of the bill of complaint, denies that the claims against the estate of the said Gazaway B. Lamar, deceased, are settled or are barred by any limitations, but avers that, on the contrary, the suits above referred to and also a suit by Mary J. C. Micon, as administratrix, etc. (in which there has been a decision in favor of the complainant, and in which it is claimed that $30,000 are due to the complainant), are pending, and that until they are determined finally it cannot be known whether there is any money applicable to the legacy set out in the bill of complaint, assuming that the complainant is entitled, as of the 28th of September, 1872, to call the executor to an account for the estate in the hands of Gazaway B. Lamar at that time.

19 And the said defendant, further answering, denies that the said complainant is entitled to the relief or any part thereof in the said complaint demanded.

And this defendant prays the same advantage of his aforesaid answer as if he had pleaded or demurred to the said bill of complaint; and this defendant prays leave to be dismissed with his reasonable costs and charges in this behalf most wrongfully sustained.

THE GEORGIA INFIRMARY FOR THE RELIEF AND PROTECTION OF AGED AND AFFLICTED NEGROES
HARRIETT CAZENOVE JONES and FRANK CAZENOVE JONES, as Administrators, with the Will Annexed, of the Estate of Gazaway B. Lamar, deceased.

Statement of Facts.

It is hereby stipulated and agreed that the following are the facts in the above-entitled suit:

1. On the 28th day of September, 1872, Gazaway B. Lamar, since deceased, made a will, a copy whereof is hereunto annexed.

2. The complainant, The Georgia Infirmary for the Relief and Protection of Aged and Afflicted Negroes, is a charitable corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of Georgia, and its object, as its name indicates, was the relief of afflicted colored persons. It was entitled to receive and sue for donations of real and personal property.

At the time of the testator's death it carried on its business at the city of Savannah.

23 Its president was Mr. John Stoddard and its secretary Dr. William Duncan, which gentlemen held the same or similar positions in no other corporation or association. The complainant was the institution designated by the testator in the 11th item of his will as the Oglethorpe association or infirmary.

3. At the time of making his will the testator was the owner of real and personal property, besides claims for cotton, amounting to about $61,000 in value, of which about $37,100 was in real estate, and was interested, as hereinafter stated, in claims, which are specified in his will, against the Government of the United States and its officers for cotton seized during the war, amounting to several hundred thousand dollars, for which suits in the U. S. Court of Claims and elsewhere were then pending, brought by the testator in his own name alone.

4. That at the date at which the testator made his will C. A. L. Lamar and W. W. Cheever were dead, each having died prior to 1866; that during the lifetime of said C. A. L. Lamar and W. W. Cheever they and the said testator, Gazaway B. Lamar, then residents of the city of Savannah, Georgia, had been engaged in the buying and selling of guano on joint account, and in that business large losses had occurred, which losses were referred to by the testator in item 7 of his will, and by reason of which losses the estates of said C. A. L. Lamar and said W. W. Cheever were in 1866 and prior to the making of any claim against the United States Government and thereafter to the time when Mr. G. B. Lamar made his will and to the time of his death largely indebted to the said G. B. Lamar; that the said C. A. L. Lamar and W. W. Cheever and the testator had under separate agreements also been engaged in buying and selling cotton on joint account; that the in-

24 terest of the testator in the several cotton claims specified in his will is correctly stated in his will, with the following modifications:

The legal title to the first claim, "32 bales sea island belonging to the estate of my son, C. A. L. Lamar," was held by the testator, with the right to apply the proceeds thereof to the satisfaction of his account against said estate of his son for the losses on guano account mentioned and referred to in his will, which account of the testator against the estate of C. A. L. Lamar, after crediting said estate with all other dues to it at the time of making said will and at the testator's death, largely exceeded the value or proceeds of said first claim.

The legal title to the second, third, and fourth claims, to wit, (2) "136 bales upland, bought by C. A. L. Lamar of F. S. Gue and paid for by him at sixteen cents per pound for equally joint account with me;" (3) "112 bales upland, bought by H. Meinhard & Bro. at $1.25 per lb. in currency and paid for by C. A. L. Lamar for equally joint account with me," and (4) "100 bales upland, bought of H. Meinhard Bros. and paid for by me $1.25 per lb. currency, making in all 348 bales for that account," was held by the testator, with the right to apply the proceeds of the one-half interest therein of C. A. L. Lamar to the satisfaction of his, the testator's, account against said C. A. L. Lamar's estate for losses on said guano account, which account, after crediting said estate with all other dues to it at the time of making said will and at the testator's death, largely exceeded the value or proceeds of said one-half interest in said claims.

The cotton mentioned in the fifth claim, "446 uplands, bought by W. W. Cheever of J. J. Williams and W. A. Taylor for joint account between him and me and paid for by me," had been paid for by the testator under an agreement with said Cheever that he, said Cheever, should be entitled to have the testator account to 25 him for one-half of the profits, if any, which might be derived from the same, and the legal title to the same was held by the testator, with the right to apply any sum for which he might be accountable to said Cheever for his interest in said profits in satisfaction of his, the testator's, account against said Cheever's estate for losses on said guano account, which account, after crediting said estate with all other dues to it at the time of the making of said will and at the testator's death, largely exceeded the value or proceeds of the interest of said Cheever in said profits.

In the cotton mentioned in the sixth claim, "9 bales my own cotton," no other person than the testator had any interest.

The cotton mentioned in the seventh and eighth claims, to wit, "(7) 180 sea island, bought by Mr. Cheever and paid for by me for the equally joint account of W. W. Cheever and C. A. L. Lamar," and (8) "1,715 bales uplands, bought by W. W. Cheever and paid for by me for joint account of W. W. Cheever and C. A. L. Lamar and myself," had been paid for by the testator under an agreement with said Cheever and C. A. L. Lamar that each of them should be entitled to have the testator account to them for one-third of the profits, if any, which might be derived from the same. The testator held the legal title thereto, with the right to apply any sum for which he was accountable to either said Cheever or said C. A. L. Lamar for their interest in said profits in satisfaction of his, the testator's, account against the estates both of said Cheever and said C. A. L. Lamar for loss on said guano account, which account, after crediting said Cheever and said C. A. L. Lamar with all other dues to them at the time of making said will and at the testator's death, largely exceeded the value of proceeds of the interest of said Cheever and said C. A. L. Lamar in said profits.

5. That after the making of his will and prior to his death
26 the testator collected from the Government of the United States upon a judgment recovered in his name alone in the United States Court of Claims the sum of about $342,819.80 net after the payment of the expenses of recovery upon the several claims mentioned above in the fourth item of this statement; that of the net amount so collected from the cotton claims less than two hundred thousand dollars would have gone to the account of said G. B. Lamar but for the fact that he was entitled to the whole thereof when the accounts of C. A. L. Lamar and W. W. Cheever were respectively charged by him with the one-third of their losses on the said guano account, the estate of C. A. L. Lamar and of said W. W. Cheever being in fact indebted to the said G. B. Lamar over and above their share in the net amount so collected from the cotton claims.

6. On the 4th day of October, 1874, the testator died, at the city of New York, and on the 10th day of November, 1874, the said will of the deceased was admitted to probate and letters testamentary issued to the original defendant, Gazaway De Rosset Lamar, by the surrogate of New York county.

7. At the time of the testator's death he still held the $61,000 worth of property he held prior to the collection of his claims against the United States, and also securities in which he had invested the proceeds of the claims collected. The value of such securities was $342,819.80, making the total value of the estate left by him $403,819.80.

8. That at the time of the death of the testator none of the claims mentioned in the will, except those referred to in the fourth and fifth items of this statement, had been collected, and none of them have been since collected, although the executor has pressed the collection of the same by suit and other proceedings, and the administrators are still pressing the collection of the same by appropriate proceedings before Congress.

27 One of the claims so pressed by the executor was the following: A claim "for 484 bales upland, bought by W. W. Cheever, paid for by me, and taken from Thomasville by A. G. Brown, Jr., per his receipt in the Treasury Department." An action was brought in the circuit court of the United States for the district of Massachusetts against A. G. Brown, Jr., to collect this claim, but this suit was not successful in the circuit court, and the rulings of the circuit court were sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States. See the decision in the case of Lamar vs. Browne, 92 U. S., 187.

Another of the claims so pressed by the executor was the following: "For 426 bales upland, bought by W. W. Cheever and paid for by me; taken from Florida by D. G. Cabell."

An action was brought in the circuit court of the United States for the southern district of New York against Mr. McCullouch, Secretary of the Treasury, to collect this claim, but this suit was not successful in the circuit court, and the rulings of the circuit court were sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States. See the decision in Lamar vs. McCulloch, 115 U. S., 163.

The said claims are not now recoverable in any court, their prosecution being barred by the statute of limitations.

9. A portion of said securities left by said testator consisted of $60,000 in the bonds of the city of Savannah, Georgia, the coupons of which were payable on the 1st of July and January in each year, which were purchased by the testator during the months of May and June, in the year 1874, at a cost of $50,000, which was their value at the time of the testator's death. When purchased they were deposited by him with T. M. Cunningham, of said city of Savannah, with instructions given by said testator, first, in letter under date of June 25th, 1874, reading as follows:

28 "Please to permit John Stoddard, Esq., president of the hospital, or Dr. Wm. Duncan, the secretary and treasurer of it, to take coupons off the sixty Savannah city bonds on deposit with you, on my account, due 1 July ensuing, and this shall be your warrant for them."

And, second, in letter under date 20th July, 1874:

"Hold $60,000 of the Savannah city bonds as the property of the infirmary, but under my control, until I arrange conditions with the president and managers."

In compliance with the instructions contained in said first-mentioned letter, said Cunningham, on or about the first day of July, 1874, delivered to the president or secretary of the complainant $2,100, the amount of the coupons which fell due on that date on said $60,000 Savannah city bonds.

After the death of the testator said Cunningham, upon the demand of the executor of the testator's estate, in the month of November, 1874, surrendered to said executor said $60,000 of bonds.

10. It is further stipulated and agreed that the foregoing statement of facts is made by the parties hereto for the purpose of this suit only and is only binding upon them in said suit and is therein made only for the purpose of determining whether the complainant is entitled to a share in the assets left by the testator, which were in part the investment of the sums received by him upon said cotton claims from said United States Government, and shall in nowise, beyond the determination of such right, prejudice or affect the right of either party upon any proceeding or accounting which may hereafter be had in this suit or elsewhere to determine the exact amount of the share to which the complainant is entitled under said will.

HARRIET CAZENOVE JONES and FRANK CAZENOVE JONES, as Administrators, with the Will Annexed, of the Estate of Gazaway B. Lamar, Deceased.

The appeal of The Georgia Infirmary, &c., the above-named complainant and appellant, respectfully showeth—

That upon the 15th day of December, 1881, the above-named complainant and appellant filed his bill in the circuit court of the United States for the southern district of New York against the above-named defendants and respondents, in which it sets forth that it was a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of Georgia and was authorized to receive all legacies which might be given to it for charitable purposes.

That in October, 1874, Gazaway B. Lamar died in the city of New York, leaving a will, whereby he gave to this appellant a legacy of $50,000, which was to be applied to the relief of indigent negroes.

That the defendants and respondents, who were the administrators, with the will annexed, of the deceased, had refused to pay over said legacy.

And said bill prayed that the defendants might be compelled to account and pay over said legacy.

39 That the defendants and respondents filed an answer denying the claims of the appellants.

That thereupon the appellants filed its reply, denying all the allegations contained in the answer

That thereupon the respective parties agreed upon a statement of facts which was filed in this cause.

That on the 26th day of February, 1889, after counsel for the respective parties had been heard, a final decree was made and pronounced in the cause, wherein it was in substance adjudged and decreed—

That the appellant's said bill of complaint be, and thereby was, dismissed with costs to the defendant-.

Wherefore this appellant appeals from the whole decree of said circuit court of the United States, and respectfully prays that the decree of the said circuit court and the bill, answer, pleadings, depositions, evidence, and proceedings in the said cause may be sent to the Supreme Court of the United States without delay, and that the said Supreme Court will proceed to hear the said cause anew, and that the said decree of the circuit court and every part thereof may be reversed and a decree made directing an accounting and the payment of said legacy to the appellant, with costs, or such other decree made as to the said Supreme Court shall seem just.
